Conservative Estimates Fix Number Coming For Log Rolling and Celebration at 10,000

MAY BE EVEN GREATER

City Council Lets Down Bars, Permitting Observance of Independence Day as in Old Days

SPECTACULAR FEATURES

Industrial and Fraternal Parade, Drill Team Competition And Fireworks to be Attractions

With the Modern Woodmen state log rolling and Fourth of July celebration less than a month away, detailed preparations are practically complete for the entertainment of the largest crowd ever in Rushville. Conservative estimates fix the size of the crowd at 10,000 people, but if the weather is favorable, many more than this number are expected.

While the gathering will be primarily the annual meeting of Indiana Woodmen, it will likewise be a Fourth of July celebration on a large scale, such as Rushville never had, and which is expected to attract many people other than members of the Modern Woodman lodge.

The log rolling this year will be the twenty-fifth anniversary of the organization of the Indiana Log Rolling association, and it is regarded as significant that the first meeting was held in Rushville a quarter of a century ago.

The city council has let down the bars and will permit the unrestricted use of fireworks on the Fourth, so that the celebration will resemble one of the old-time variety, such as Rushville once enjoyed before the "safe and sane" Fourth idea was generally recognized.

A fraternal and industrial parade, in which local lodges, civic organizations and business establishments will participate, and an elaborate display of fireworks, under the direction of competent persons, will be among the spectacular features of the celebration.

Five hundred dollars in cash prizes will be awarded in the drill team contest that will take place at Memorial Park immediately after the address by Senator James E. Watson, who will make a fraternal address at the coliseum in the park at two o'clock.

Five bands have been engaged for the day, so that there will be nothing lacking in this respect. The feature band will be the Indianapolis Newsboys' musical organization, which is very popular here, having appeared in Rushville on numerous occasions during the past. Other

HENRY MILLER, SR., DIES AT NEW SALEM

Rush County Farmer Expires This Morning at Age of 80 Years—Was Born in Cincinnati

WIDOW AND FOUR CHILDREN

Henry Miller, Sr., well known resident of New Salem, died this morning at 3:30 o'clock at his home in that place, death resulting from an illness of several months, suffering with complications and advanced age. The deceased was born in Cincinnati in 1844, and was 80 years of age. He had spent the greater portion of his life in New Salem, where for years he had been a prominent farmer.

He is survived by his widow, and four children, who are Henry Miller of this city, John and Selty Miller of Ripley county, and Mrs. Elizabeth Irvin of Indianapolis.

The funeral arrangements were not completed today, but will probably be held Monday, with burial at Millhouse, in Decatur county.

MANY VISITORS EXPECTED SUNDAY

Knights of Columbus Sixth District Initiation Will Close With Banquet In Evening

PROGRAM IS ANNOUNCED

Walter J. Cronin of Richmond Will be Toastmaster and Local Entertainers Will Give Program

Many out-of-town people are expected in this city Sunday to attend the Knights of Columbus Sixth District initiation to be held here, with an all day program. The district is composed of Shelbyville, Connersville and this city, and each city is expected to be represented by a large delegation. People are also expected to attend from Kokomo, Richmond and Indianapolis.

The three degrees will be given at the Red Men building in West First street, the first degree to be given in the morning at nine o'clock by the Rushville council; the second degree at two o'clock in the afternoon by the Connersville degree team; and the third degree at 3:30 p. m. by the Kokomo team.

The initiation closes with an elaborate banquet to be served at six o'clock Sunday evening at the Social Club in North Morgan street. The Ladies Altar Society will have charge of the serving of the banquet. The Rev. Father Walter J. Cronin of Richmond will act as the toastmaster.

The program for the banquet will be as follows:

"I Used to Know You Ma," by Nesbit, Lavienna Compton.
"Our Order," District Deputy John R. Grace.
Prelude, C Sharp Minor, by Rachminoff, and Dance of the Demons by Holst, Brenda Kinsinger.
"Charity," The Rev. Father John C. Rager.

Group of solos, "Love's A Merchant," "Miss You So," Irene Reardon.
"The Man of Today," The Rev. Father John J. Gallagher.

"Betty at the Ball Game," "You Say Taint No Use to Pray," Lavienna Compton.
Toast, Anthony Schrichte.
"Tam-O-Shanter," Brenda Kinsinger.

"The Answer" by Terry, "Mah Lindy Lou," by Strickland, Irene Reardon.

Entertainment for the ladies will be provided during the day and evening at the K. of C. club rooms and Elks' New Home.

DEFENSE, STATE ARE DIGGING IN

In Case Leopold and Loeb are Acquitted or Found Insane, Trial on Kidnaping Charge Will be Asked

PLANS OF STATE ATTORNEY

Father of Boys Pledge Themselves to Make no Attempt to "Defeat Justice" At Trial

By EDWARD C. BERR (U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Chicago, June 7.—(U. P.)—The state and defense in the trial of Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb, confessed slayers of 14-year-old Robert Franks, today were digging trenches from which they are to stage the greatest legal battle in Chicago's criminal history.

While State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe and his battery of aides were preparing two "air tight" cases against the two young intellectuals, one a charge of murder, the other of kidnaping for ransom, parents of the two boys made a strong bid for public sympathy.

Should Leopold and Loeb be acquitted of the murder charge, "or even be found insane," the state will immediately demand a new trial on the kidnaping indictment, it was said at Crowe's office. Both charges carry death penalties.

A brief statement, the first official word from the defense, was made public last night by fathers of the two boys. The fathers, Nathan Leopold, Sr., president of the Morris Paper Box Company, and Albert H. Loeb, millionaire vice-president of Sears-Roebuck and Company, pledged themselves to make no attempt to "defeat justice."

The statement was issued, it was believed, as a defense against public opinion throughout Chicago, which has been keenly bitter toward the two millionaire's sons who "just for the fun of it," they said, murdered young Franks. A cynical belief that the boys would escape a death sentence because of the millions spent in their defense has added to the sentiment against Leopold and Loeb.

AWAITS SENTENCE TO LIFE IMPRISONMENT

Charles Henry, Colored, Convicted For Murder of Indianapolis Policeman, at Shelbyville

JURY DELIBERATES 24 HOURS

Shelbyville, Ind., June 7.—Convicted of second degree murder for the killing of Jesse Louden, a member of the Indianapolis police force, Charles Henry, colored, today awaited sentence of life imprisonment in the state prison at Michigan City.

The jury in the trial of Henry found him guilty and recommended life imprisonment late yesterday after 24 hours deliberation. Twenty-four ballots were taken before a verdict was reached.

Henry shot Louden when the officer discovered him breaking into a drug store, according to a confession read in the trial.

Attorneys for the accused man contended the confession was forced from Henry by "third degree" methods and based their defense on a plea of insanity.

ABOUT THIS TIME O' YEAR

Million Dollar Dog Industry Is Latest Business in Rush County

Banner Hog Raising County in United States Also Looms as The Banner Dog Raising County, With Opening of Wilsona Kennels on Former A. P. Walker Farm. German Police Dogs, Educated in all Lines, Will be Raised. Ben H. Wilson Promotes Business For Pleasure, But Incidentally Has a Dog-Gone Good Business

Besides being the banner hog raising county in the United States, Rush county looms as a contender for honors as the banner dog raising county.

There is under process of construction on the farm known as the A. P. Walker farm, two miles west of Rushville, a dog kennel business, which the owner, Ben H. Wilson, says will be the largest and best equipped dog farm in the United States.

The entire beautiful farm is to be the home for "educating" and training German Police dogs. It will be in full operation this summer, with between 40 and 60 of the high priced dogs on hand.

Mr. Wilson who recently moved here, after buying the farm, is a federal tax attorney, but as a sideline is interested in the dog business. Raising dogs with him is for the amusement and entertainment he gets out of it, he declares, and of course when he gets a supply on hand, he sells them to people who want them.

He has been financially interested in the Carnegy Dog Kennels of near Kansas City, and the dogs are being shipped from that place to his farm here. At the present time he has six

TEAMSTER PAYS $1 AND COST

Arthur Moore Fined on Assault and Battery Charge by Mayor

Arthur Moore, a teamster of Newcastle, employed with the Andrews Asphalt paving company, constructing Morgan street in this city, was arrested this morning by Police Chief Blackburn, on an assault and battery charge.

The arrest was made following an alleged controversy between Moore and David Edwards one of the foremen, who said he was struck by the defendant. Moore pleaded guilty before Justice Stech and paid a fine of $1 and costs, amounting to $8.05.

CLEVELAND READY FOR CONVENTION

Republican Headquarters Boil with Activity and Hotels Hum With Convention Chatter

RADIO TO REPORT TO WORLD

Downtown District Decked Out in Miles of Bunting and Flags Flying From Buildings

By JULIAN SNYDER (U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Cleveland, O., June 7.—(U. P.)—Cleveland today was ready to welcome its first great political convention.

An air of expectancy pervaded the city. The Republican headquarters boiled with activity. Hotels hummed with convention chatter. Already a vast host of strangers were here for the great event.

Sunday and Monday trains will rumble into town with the Republican army of delegates from all parts of the nation.

Tuesday, John T. Adams, chairman of the Republican National Committee, will raise the convention gavel in Cleveland Public hall.

And as the gavel falls, perhaps audible to the 13,000 delegates and visitors jammed in the great auditorium, more than 1,000 trained writers and, for the first time in history, the radio will start reporting to the world another chapter in American political history.

Cleveland today speeded to completion the last-minute preparations for the convention.

The city put on a holiday garb. The downtown district was decked out in miles of red, white and blue bunting. Flags were flying from most every lamp post and building.

Merchants had their store windows scoured and placed their newest stocks in pleasing array to catch the eye, for it is well known that with a national convention comes a deluge of gold. It is estimated that more than half a million dollars will be spent here next week.

Scores of vendors counted their renewed stocks of novelties. Strange out-of-the-state faces thronged the streets—official-looking men, nondescript appearing men, handsomely gowned women, gaudily dressed, painted women, cripples and beggars. All were in town for the big show.

There was a wide variance today between the rumors of bootleggers and predictions of city officials that the convention will be "bone" dry.

WIDOW FREED AFTER TRIAL FOR MURDER

Mrs. Elda G. Simmermyer of Connersville, Accused of Slaying Husband, is Acquitted

AN ACCIDENT, HER DEFENSE

Connersville, Ind., June 7.—Mrs. Elda G. Simmermyer, 27 years old, was found not guilty of the murder of her husband, John J. Simmermyer, by a jury in Fayette Circuit court at 8:40 o'clock Friday evening. The case went to the jury at 7 o'clock, and the verdict was reached after four ballots. Mrs. Simmermyer took the stand in her own behalf today and, though subjected to a grilling cross-examination, maintained in every detail the story of the shooting which, she said, was an accident resulting when she attempted to take a .22 caliber rifle from her husband to prevent him from carrying out a threat to kill her and take his own life.

A large crowd was in the court room when the verdict was returned and a noisy demonstration was staged. Mrs. Simmermyer received the gift of freedom in tears. Judge E. Ralph Himelick had gone to his home when the jury reported that it had arrived at a verdict at 8:20 o'clock. He was immediately called and the verdict received twenty minutes later.

The jury, it is understood, stood ten to two for acquittal on the first ballot and eleven to one on the next two ballots.

Simmermyer died from a bullet wound at his home southwest of here May 14.

CANDIDATES FILE ITEMS OF EXPENSE

Those Who Sought Nominations Comply With Law by Making a Financial Accounting

NO LARGE SUMS EXPENDED

Most of Money Spent in Campaign Went For Advertising, Cards and Party Contributions

Practically all of the primary candidates in the May 6 election have followed the law, and filed their expense accounts with Loren Martin county clerk. The law makes it compulsory for all candidates to file an expense list within thirty days after an election.

The only exceptions are committeemen and delegates who are not required to file an expense account. The expenses as filed in Rush county are not high, and no large sums were expended. Most of the money was spent for advertising, cards and with donations to the party organizations. No candidate made a promise.

The complete list of expenses as filed, are as follows: Leonard M. Barlow $8.25; Aloysius Carr, $29.24; Lawrence A. Handley of Richmond democratic candidate for congress, $143.28; George H. Bell, $17.00; William R. Martin, $37.92; John M. Lee $5; John D. Osborne $15; Harry B. Armstrong, $23.50.

Harry Myers, $31.88; Adolphus Cameron, none; Charles M. Trowbridge, $29.50; J. A. Stevens, $15; Rowland H. Hill, $22; Samuel G. Gregg, $34.45; O. J. Cook, $3.50; T. B. Staples $3.50; Ellis R. Werner $8.02; Chester L. Jinks $11.00; Albert C. Stevens, none.

Howard Clawson, none; Edwin O. George $24; Sidney L. Hunt, $10; Loren Martin $19.50; Frank Lawrence $37; Phil Wilk $42.56; Chester A. Meal $22.50; Charles M. DeMumbrum $78.19; Gates Ketchum none; William C. Morgan $43; L. M. Coons $8.90; Claude Walker, $14; Geston P. Hunt, none.

MANY ENTRIES FOR
VICE PRESIDENT

G. O. P. Delegates Gossiping About
Chances of Various Entries in Contest For 2nd Place

SEN. BORAH MENTIONED

One of Leading Fortune Tellers
Foretold That James E. Watson
Would be Vice President

By CHARLES P. STEWART
(Néa Service Staff Writer)

Cleveland, June 7.—With only one
presidential probability before the convention, delegates to the big Republican gathering here are getting
as much fun as they can out of gossiping about the chances of the various entries in the contest for second place.

Senator William E. Borah of Idaho is mentioned a great deal. He's
about the best possible compromise
between an "insurgent" and "a regular". He's a good campaigner. He has "jazz", in which Coolidge is somewhat lacking. And he's from the west. It would be better, however, if he came from a state with more electoral votes.

Senator George Wharton Pepper of Pennsylvania was quite strongly
urged a few weeks ago but isn't so much talked of now. He's from a state with lots of votes but it's too
far east.

Ex-Senator Albert J. Beveridge is pretty strong. Indiana has both
votes and the right kind of location.
Beveridge has a reputation as a progressive. President Coolidge thought
well enough of him as a running
mate about a month ago to have talked the matter over with him.

Senator James E. Watson, another
Hoosier, is a candidate, too. One of the leading Washington fortune tellers foretold recently that he'd be
vice president—if that counts for anything.

Senator Charles L. McNary of Oregon is well spoken of. As sponsor
of the McNary bill, the purpose of
which is to boost prices of agricultural products, it's believed the farmers would like him.

Charles G. Dawes has been quoted
to the effect that he didn't want the
nomination, but he has supporters
nevertheless.

Senator Arthur Capper of Kansas
and ex-Senator William S. Kenyon
of Iowa are from farm states and mildly progressive in politics. Missouri is quite a farm state likewise
and none too safely Republican, so
a favorite son from there might
strengthen the ticket. Hence Gov.
Arthur M. Hyde is suggested.

Ex-Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois has considerable support. So
has Senator Frank B. Willis of Ohio
though he's hurt himself with the
"insurgent" element by criticizing
the recent congressional investigations, which were of "insurgent" inspiration mainly.

The names of Gen. John J. Pershing, who calls Wyoming his home
state, and James W. Garard of New York, who was American ambassador in Berlin when the war broke out
are heard occasionally.

Ralph B. Strassburger is a rich
Pennsylvanian who would like the
nomination and the frequency and
emphasis with which he has said so
have made him somewhat of a sure-
enough candidate. His boom is small,
to be sure, and yet creditable considering that he produced it all by himself out of nothing at all.

A Paradox

A writer in a big city newspaper
says that business men have few
flowers for congress and its tax law,
but that judged by the standards of
the parliaments of other great nations, congress has done some good things and not many foolish ones.

He points out that Germany,
France and England are on the verge
of a business precipice, with business
issues at stake that would raise the
hair of business in America, and
that if the United States were operating on the European plan, we might have Brookhart or Heflin for
president today, because the government has been defeated on the soldiers' bonus, Japanese exclusion and
the Mellon tax reform.

The conclusion is somewhat of a paradox. Congress is not entitled to any credit for the stability of our government, as compared with the
hectic governments of Europe.

If it were left to congress, someone of the Brookhart or Heflin stripe
would be president, if congress is to
be judged by the way it has voted.

But fortunately, our constitution
does not permit calling an election
every time a "crisis" arises or the
president is not supported by congress. If it did, we would never know
when we get up in the morning who
our president was.

We in the United States have the
good fortune to have been started
right by a group of wise and far-seeing men, who understood the tyranny
of a minority, an example of which
we have just seen in congress.

Of course, congress did a few
good things, not the least of which
was the defeat of the Muscle Shoals
and the McNary-Haugen bills, both
of which proposed unwarranted raids
on the treasury at a time when the
popular demand was for economy in government and tax reduction.

Bad Boys

The former governor of Nathan Leopold, one of the self-confessed
slayers of young Robert Franks in Chicago, says the death of a bird or
an animal never seemed to have any effect on him, except perhaps one of curiosity, when he was a lad.

He was always head-strong and
had no respect for his parents, she adds. In other words, he was a bad boy.

And the plight in which Leopold
now finds himself is the fate of bad
boys. The boy who will not listen to advice from his elders is destined to have his name on the role at some penal institution.

Parental guidance is essential and
young folks who are not compelled,
if not willing, to follow in the paths
that are shown to them, will come to
no good end.

Leopold had a mania for killing
and collecting birds. He regarded life lightly—all too lightly. "I should

Hunt's Washington Letter

BY HARRY B. HUNT
— NEA Service Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Proceedings of the Cleveland convention may be speeded up in order to
make possible an adjournment late
on the evening of Thursday, June 12.

For more than a few of the delegates view with apprehension the
possibility of the convention concluding its activities on Friday, the Thirteenth.

Even among the "leaders" there
are many who face unafraid the combined threats of Democrats and Independents, but who lose their
nerve and complacency at the prospect of picking a vice presidential candidate and winding up the affairs of the session on a date
popularly reputed to be laden with
distress and disaster.

Of course these gentlemen are
not superstitious. They'll tell you frankly they are not.
But then, they ask, why take a chance? Why tempt Fate?

DEMOCRATIC interest in the Cleveland convention extends chiefly to the sort of platform the
G. O. P. carpenters build.

For the Democratic program
calls for the construction of a platform which will be more attractive
and spacious than that of the Republicans—one on which there will
be room for all who fear faulty
construction may cause a collapse
in the G. O. P. structure.

Incidentally, also, the Democratic architects will study the plan of
the Cleveland platform in the hope
of locating weak spots. For in the campaign, the plan of battle to defeat Coolidge calls first and foremost for knocking the props from
under the promises and program
which his party chiefs will lay
down for him.

NEXT to the matter of the Republican platform, Democratic
interest now centers in the sort of
showing which will be made by the
"Farmer-Labor" party convention

at St. Paul, June 17.

For on the extent to which that
third-party movement makes headway depends very largely the latent danger to the old parties in the La Follette movement, which
will take shape at the conference
in Cleveland, July 4.

If the St. Paul convention reveals
a substantial following, in the face
of repudiation by La Follette and
by the American Federation of Labor, it may mean a split in the
independent vote in the northwest
which would result in not merely a
third but a fourth party this fall.

Any such division, of course,
would jeopardize the effectiveness
of the proposed independent campaign. Two fighting "independent"
groups simply would kill each other
off and leave everything
lovely for the dominant "old party"
in the northwest—which party, of course, is the G. O. P.

SHOULD the St. Paul convention
"fizzle," however, then the La
Follette gathering at Cleveland becomes of major importance.

The assertion is openly made in
some quarters that under-cover
assistance is being given the St.
Paul gathering by individuals and
interests close to the G. O. P. in
the belief that by encouraging an
off-shoot independent organization
of extreme radicals they can undermine and discredit any other
independent movement.

Efforts to tie the St. Paul meeting up with the American Federation of Labor finally reached the point where Samuel Gompers issued a blanket warning to all organized labor that an attempt was
being made to trick it into becoming a catspaw for "Communistic
enemies of orderly development."
Gompers flatly stated that enemies
of organized labor "are uniting
with communists and professional radicals" in promoting the St. Paul gathering and urged all loyal la-
borites to stay away.

On the effect of this warning
may depend the fate of a real
"third party" this year.

Georgia Lady Says She Has Grown Stronger by Taking
Cardui—Thoroughly Convinced of Its Merits.

Clyattville, Ga.—In a statement
which she gave at her home on R. F.
D. 1, here, Mrs. T. A. Copeland said:
"I have, I believe, avoided a good
deal of suffering by the use of Cardui,
and am thoroughly convinced that it
has been of great benefit to me.

"Before the birth of two of my
children, I grew so weak and nervous
I could hardly go, and suffered . . .
I had a friend who told me of Cardui,
so the next time when I grew so weak
and run-down I began to use it. I used it three months. I grew stronger
and less nervous. The baby was stronger and a better baby, and I really believe it was because I built
up my strength with this splendid tonic."

Cardui has been in successful use
for more than forty years. Thousands
of women have written to tell of the
beneficial results obtained by taking
Cardui, and to recommend it to others.
It is a mild, harmless, purely vegetable medicinal preparation—a product of practical experience, scientific
investigation and pharmaceutical skill.

The Shifting Mechanism
Is Important

It makes a difference whether you have to lift a carriage
or just a segment

Ball Bearing Long Wearing

In shifting to write capitals and figures on an L. C. Smith &
Bros. typewriter, you touch the shift key and shift the type segment
—not the entire carriage.

This is the reason why our wide carriage machines shift just as easily as the regular correspondence size.

The segment shift is on ball bearings and works easily and exactly. The printing point is always stationary when the type strikes the paper.

This is only one of the many mechanical features in which the L.
C. Smith & Bros. typewriter excels.

Weakens U. S. Boxing Team

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, June 7.—With only one outstanding fighter of class, the American Olympic boxing team is not formidable as the squad that went to Antwerp in 1920. Nearly all of the good amateur boxers that were developed since the Antwerp games turned professional, and left the class in a rather emaciated condition.

Eddie Eagen, former captain of the Yale boxing team, now a Rhodes scholar at Oxford, is the only outstanding boxer on the team. He is not only the best of the American amateurs, but he is about the best in the world. Eagen, who was appointed to the team without qualifying, may be started in both the light heavyweight and heavyweight classes, and he has a fine chance to win the championship in both classes.

The American team won only two championships in the last Olympic boxing matches. Frank de Gennaro, who is now one of the headliners of the professional ring under the name of Genaro, won the flyweight championship, and Sam Mossberg won the lightweight title.

Bill Spengler, boxing instructor at the New York police school, had heavyweight championship practically sewed up, but he had the bad luck to break his hand in his semi-final round and he was forced to default.

The Zivic brothers were headliners of the 1920 team, but they have turned professionals. Jack Zivic is one of the outstanding fighters in the lightweight class, and if Benny Leonard makes good his threat to retire at the end of the season, Zivic may be able to grab the title.

Eddie Eagen, and Harry Mallin, the Britisher, who won the middleweight championship at Antwerp, will be the only two 1920 champions to defend their titles. Mallin is one of the best amateurs in Europe and he is almost certain to retain his title.

Eagen holds the British intercollegiate light heavyweight and heavyweight championships. He is one of the best fighters in the ring, having a heavy punch and a lot of boxing skill. He could make good in the professional ring, but he has ambitions to become a lawyer, and he is working his way through college.

"Minnie" At Castle

Marshall Neilan has another big success. It is a fine human, humorous story of a homely girl in a small town and of a big town reporter who is continually forgetting things. It is "Minnie," a First National attraction at the Castle theatre, today.

Leatrice Joy, who entered pictures through the prize beauty route, is the homely girl, and Matt Moore is the reporter. It is something new for Miss Joy to be homely and it is something out of the ordinary for Matt Moore to give a character portrayal, but, to play on names, there will be Moore Joy in this picture that anything these two have ever done before.

The situations in "Minnie" are a scream from beginning to end and will be extra fine entertainment for the patrons of the Castle theatre. The character "Minnie" is the girl every one knows. They'll recognize the reporter, too, and the chewing gum salesman, and the inventor and the "jealous cat" of a girl whose pretty face sneers at the homely "Minnie."

In fact, all through this story it is the little tragedies of everyday life that give the picture its many laughs and side-splitting humors.

"The Moral Sinner"

Side-stepping death by inches. That was Dorothy Dalton's thrilling experience during the filming of certain scenes for her new Paramount picture, "The Moral Sinner," which is being shown at the Princess theatre today.

In a sequence of this production, a gripping crook drama, adapted from the stage success, "Leah Kleschna," Miss Dalton, in the title role of a clever girl apache of the Paris underworld, makes a hair-raising escape from the police by fleeing with stolen jewels over the roofs of the city. This was some stunt for the popular star to perform, for said roofs are not all that they appear in the finished picture—they are but a maze of more or less rickety framework.

During production, Miss Dalton had scarcely sealed the roof of the second house when a loud crash reached her ears. She did not turn around but kept right on going. The roof in back had given away, but as the damaged part of the set was out of the camera's eye as it followed the star in her flight, the scene did not register on the film.

Needless to say, Miss Dalton called for an intermission until she had sufficiently recovered from her fright. A fall would have meant serious injury and perhaps death. So there is one near tragedy in "The Moral Sinner" that audiences will never even suspect.

James Rennie has the leading man's role in the picture, which was adapted to the screen by J. Clarkson Miller. Others in the supporting cast include Alphonse Ethier, Frederick Lewis, W. I. Percival, Paul McAllister and Florence Fair. Ralph Ince directed.

Million Dollar Dog Industry Is Latest Business In Rush County

with more powers than blood hounds and can track a criminal by the sense of smell.

Well trained dogs of this breed bring good prices. Motion picture companies are the best buyers and pay almost any price for a dog that can do everything but talk.

Mr. Wilson owns Leo, the prize dog of several nations. Leo will arrive here from the Missouri kennels next month. Leo spent four years on the Berlin police force, and Mr. Wilson says he has many scars to show where he has engaged in fights. This dog took the grand champion prize of practically all foreign countries and became the property of Mr. Wilson, who would not consider even an offer of $5,000 for him.

Just a mere pup, untrained, will bring $250. Others range in price up to $2,000. They are friendly, if trained in that manner, he asserts, but vicious if given the word to guard or attack.

The prize champion Leo is untouched by human hands. He was trained that way. No one dare place a hand upon him. Whenever it becomes necessary to put a muzzle or collar on him, the dog bows his head and permits it, but Mr. Wilson says the human hand must not attempt to stroke or pat him.

Then on the other hand, this same dog may be told to guard a helpless baby with all of the safety in the world for the child. A person's life would be endangered if they attempted to remove the child. It is one dog he says, that can be told to watch his master, and it is one way that Mr. Wilson can keep him still for a few minutes, he says.

Mr. Wilson explained that you have to educate the dogs, the same as a child. These twelve imported dogs from Germany have heard only

German spoken, and now it will be necessary to teach them the meaning of the customary commands in English.

These dogs are purchased by people in all walks of life. They not only afford protection, but they make good pets, and those that are on the farm now, are as playful and friendly as the common street dog. Although the farm is not ready for business Mr. Wilson has received many inquiries about dogs and before the summer is over, Rushville will be the mecca for high grade dogs from all over the country.

New kennels are being built over the grounds, and these homes are the most modern of any, Mr. Wilson said. In addition to these homes, there is a building devoted to the care of the dogs. A dog kitchen with large vats for cooking their food, occupies one room and then the dogs have a bath room, where regular tubs will be provided and the baths given them at certain times. The bath room has a lounging room, where the dogs "loaf" while drying.

Then there is a hospital ward, because Mr. Wilson says dogs get sick, and need attention. The hospital ward is also used as a quarantine hospital, where imported dogs and others shipped in, are detained and examined for any dog disease.

Mr. Wilson says he doesn't know a dog-gone thing about dogs, but a visit to the farm will reveal that he is an expert in the business, and that it has a dog-gone bright future for Rush county.

The farm here will gradually absorb the Carnegie dog kennels, and will be known as the Wilsona Dog Farm. Bird dogs may also be raised on a small scale, but the bulk of the business will deal with the German police dogs, and the business is termed as a million dollar industry for Rush county.

CLEVELAND READY FOR CONVENTION

Rumor said the city will be the wettest in history and that liquor in almost unlimited quantities will be available.

Safety Director Edwin Barry still held to his forecast that the convention will be "the driest in history."

Finishing touches in the decoration of Cleveland Public Hall, where the convention will be called to order next Tuesday, were being rushed today.

The great auditorium—simply an elongated bowl with a roof covering it, is draped outside and in with national colors. The auditorium will seat more than 13,000. Sixth street, leading to the public hall, is a veritable arch of flags and red, white and blue bunting.

Inside the building the seats, rising one above the other in the stadium-like oval structure, stand out in black relief amid festoons of national colors.

The hall is lighted by 1,975 lamps of 200 watts each of white light, located behind a field of glass panels in the ceiling 80 feet above the floor.

More spectacular is the scheme of colored lights. There are amber, red and blue lights behind the glass screens. All are under control of a dimmer, so that a soft amber or brilliant and red may diffuse the great chamber. The lights are so arranged that a section of the hall may be blocked off in white light a second section in red and a third in blue or amber. Or, the colors may be combined to produce various prints and shades.

Lights placed about 12 feet apart under the lower balconies illuminate the arena.

A pipe organ of 10,000 pipes and 150 direct speaking stops will furnish music during the convention.

The stage upon which high officials of the government will occupy the seats of honor and from which the keynote and nominating speech or speeches will be made is exceedingly spacious, measuring 104 by 50 feet. The opening is 72 feet wide and is surmounted by an arch 42 feet 6 inches high. The opening is fitted with a steel and asbestos curtain weighing 40 tons, with its counter weights. It is operated by hydraulic power.

There are more than 30 private rooms directly off of the stage especially fitted up for the convenience of the Republican leaders and distinguished guests.

There will be 70 doorkeepers on duty under direction of General Wilber Metcalf of Kansas. The doorkeepers have been appointed from all parts of the country. One hundred and fifty ushers will seat the delegates and visitors.

Lafayette B. Gleason of New York is secretary, and Colonel Edward P. Thayer is sergeant-at-arms of the convention.

Of the decorations downtown, historic Public Square is perhaps most lavishly festooned. Thirty-two great pillars are wrapped in the national colors and connected by wires strung with hundreds of electric lights.

The most spectacular lighting effect of the convention will be Wednesday evening, when the likeness of President Coolidge and Secretary of State Charles Hughes and other prominent Republicans will be flashed across the sky over the city by fireworks.

Most people will see, hear and read about the convention than any convention in history. Hundreds of telegraph wires have been strung into Public Hall for the use of newspapers and press associations. Fifty telephone booths have been installed. S. C. Moule, division superintendent of the local telephone company, said the wire system is the most elaborate in the history of political conventions.

For the first time the convention will be broadcast by radio. Convention proceedings will be broadcast by three Cleveland stations directly, and by a dozen other stations in other parts of the country through continuous long distance service telephone from the convention hall to the radio instruments. It is estimated that 20,000,000 persons will "listen in" on the convention.

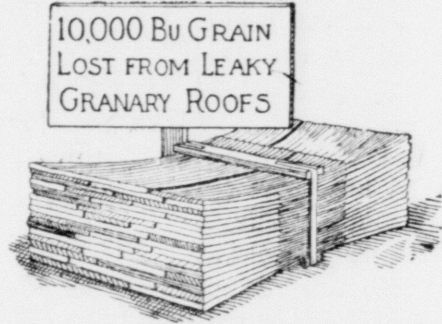

Then also for the first time the new system of sending photographs by telegraph wire by means of recently perfected instruments will be used commercially by the American Telegraph and Telephone Co. Thus it will be possible for a newspaper hundreds of miles distant to procure and publish a picture of the convention the same day the picture is snapped in Cleveland. The system was tried out several weeks ago.

Hundreds of loud speakers reproducers will carry all the speeches before the convention to roped-off spaces outside the building, where accommodations for 50,000 persons have been arranged. Through the reproducers, the speeches may be heard outside the building practically as well as inside.

Society

The Tri Kappa sorority will meet Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Buell living east of the city, Mrs. Edith Ashworth being the hostess. All members are urged to be present.

Miss Thelma Fanning entertained with a dinner party at her home in North Main Street last evening. Those present were Misses Lavinia Compton, Miss Ruth Martin, Miss Phyllis Cassidy and Ralph Plessinger, Walter Stevens and James Waites.

One of the largest conventions of the Ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic was held in Frankfort this week. The officers elected for the ensuing year were as follows: Mrs. Adelia Maxwell of Delphi, Ind., president Mrs. Edna Dagler of this city, department treasurer. This being a very responsible office the local Circle, to which she belonged considered it a very high honor to have one of their members elected to this position. The 1925 encampment of the G. A. R. will be held in Princeton. Several members of Mattox Circle attended the encampment at Frankfort, among whom were Mrs. Eva Offut, Mrs. Corelia Lyons, Lillian Joliff and Mrs. Edna Dagler, who was sent as a delegate to the convention. Mrs. Emma Schneider of Richmond was the retiring president.

Miss Mabel C. Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Lee, living west of the city, and Robert T. Marshall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Marshall, also living a short distance west of the city, were married at the Manse, 122 West Fifth street at eight o'clock this morning, by the Rev. Gibson Wilson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of this city. The Westminster Wedding ceremony was used with the ring service and responses. The witnesses were the Misses Helen Hinckman and Dorothy Brecheisen, friends of the bride.

Mr. Marshall was a graduate of the 1924 graduation class of the local high school and is employed by the Farmer's Service Station, of this city. Mrs. Marshall is a graduate of the Arlington high school, class of 1922, and has been employed in the office of the I. & C. Traction Company. After a wedding journey in various parts of Kentucky, they will return to this city for residence.

MARRIAGE LICENSE

The following licenses have been issued by Loren Martin, county clerk: Arthur Parker, a farmer and Mrs. Ruth Harris of this county. The couple were married this morning by John P. Stech, justice of peace, at his office in the court house; Robert T. Marshall, an elevator worker and Mable C. Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lee of Posey township.

DEMOLAY BEING FORMED

Ft. Wayne, Ind., June 7.—Organization of a Ft. Wayne Chapter of the Order of Demolay, a Masonic Organization for boys between 16 and 21 years, is under way here. The organization is being sponsored by the Cadessa Grotto. Plans are being made to secure uniforms for a degree team, a band and a drum corps.

Terre Haute—State vegetable growers will meet here June 18.

Mrs. Jane Cook

Winslow, Ind.—"I have taken Dr. Pierce's medicines for years. I took the 'Favorite Prescription' when I was bringing up my family and I truly believe it saved me lots of suffering. I think it is the best woman's medicine on earth. I have also taken Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and think it is a fine tonic to build up the general health. And I believe there is nothing to compare with the 'Pleasant Pellets' as a liver regulator. They can't be beat!"—Mrs. Jane Cook.

Get Dr. Pierce's remedies at any drug store, in tablets or liquid. Write Dr. Pierce, 'President Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., for free medical advice. Send 10c to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., for trial package of any of Dr. Pierce's remedies.

CHURCH WEDDING BEAUTIFUL EVENT

A beautiful church wedding was solemnized Friday evening at 6:30 o'clock at the Main Street Christian church, when Miss Katherine Wyatt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warder Wyatt, of this city, became the bride of Harold Perkins, of Indianapolis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Perkins of this city. The church was prettily decorated for the occasion with a profusion of spring flowers, spirea, locust, and peonies, entwined with ferns and other greenery. The ceremony was performed in front of the rostrum, before a bank of flowers, set off with cathedral candles.

Preceding the ceremony Merle Maupin, of Chicago, Ill., and formerly of this city, played a group of selections on the organ, in his usual splendid manner. The selections were "Pomp and Circumstance" by Elgar; and "Chanson" by Fauré. For the bridal procession he played the Lohengrin and Mendelssohn wedding marches. The bridesmaids, the Misses Mary Louise Wyatt, sister of the bride, Lois Reeve and Betty Fisher of Indianapolis, entered the church from the south door, the maid of honor, Miss Dorothy Sparks, came down the main aisle, and the minister, the Rev. C. M. Yocum, of St. Louis, Mo., former pastor of the church, together with the bridegroom and the best man, Frank Cox, of Indianapolis, came to the altar from the north door. The bride, on the arm of her father, then entered the church and was led down the main aisle to the altar by the little flower girl, Marjory Ann Wilson and the ring bearer Gene Ball. The ushers were John B. Wyatt, brother of the bride, Lamoine Perkins, brother of the bridegroom and Ad Miller, of Indianapolis.

The Episcopal ring service was read by the minister and during the ceremony Mr. Maupin played a group of bridal airs, "Pale Hands", "I Loved Beside the Shalimar", by Woodford-Finden; "I Love You Truly", by Bond and "Blest Be The Tie That Binds." Mrs. Alfred Norris sang "O Promise Me" and "Just a Song at Twilight", before the ceremony and after the ceremony, she sang "The Theta Prayer".

The bride looked lovely, wearing a beautiful white crepe de chine gown trimmed in white val lace, and a veil caught in cap effect with pearls. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Sparks, the maid of honor, was dressed in orchid georgette crepe and the bridesmaids wore blue georgette. The bride's attendants all carried bouquets of pink roses.

Following the ceremony at the church, a bridal luncheon and reception was held at the home of the bride's parents in East Third street for eighty guests. The home was appropriately decorated with spring flowers and ferns. Members of the bridal party were in the receiving line and after the arrival of the guests, they went to the dining room, where the luncheon was served. The bride's guests were seated at a long table the appointments of which were carried out in white. The remainder of the guests were served from small tables placed throughout the different rooms of the home.

Mr. and Mrs. Perkins left last night for Indianapolis and from there they went to Chicago, Ill., on a wedding trip, after which they will be at home to their friends at the Dolly Madison Apartments, twelfth and Alabama streets, Indianapolis.

Among the out-of-town guests present for the wedding were Mrs. H. S. Snew and Mrs. J. C. Wallace of Philadelphia, Pa., Mrs. U. S. Alexander of New York, Mrs. H. H. Elstran, Mr. and Mrs. Don Bridge, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wolfe, Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Howard, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Maxwell, Mr. and Mrs. John Link, Miss Eleanor Carpenter, Mrs. Kate Nolan, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Wieland, Volney Brown, Kersey McCone, Lee Detchon, Terman Ingelhart, Addison Miller, Frank Cox and Miss Elizabeth Fisher all of Indianapolis; Mrs. David Wiley and Kenneth Kline of Bloomington, Ind., Mr. and Mrs. Don Earmhart of Marion, Norman Reed of Milwaukee, Wis., and Mrs. Audrey Johnson of Laurel.

The bride is one of the popular young ladies of this city, and is a member of the Psi Iota Xi sorority, and Kappa Alpha Theta sorority. She attended Mary Baldwin Seminary at Staunton, Virginia, and is a graduate of Indiana University at Bloomington, Ind. During the year she has been engaged as the teacher of the kindergarten in the local schools. A number of pre-nuptial social functions have been given in her honor by her friends. Mr. Perkins is a graduate of Wabash college and is a member of the Beta Theta Pi and Phi Beta Kappa fraternities. He is now employed in the advertising department of the Indianapolis News.

ARGUMENTS TO BE HEARD NEXT WEEK

Evidence Concluded in Case of Henry Wiggins Against Greenfield City Administration

PATERNITY CASE JUDGMENT

Ozias Gwinup is Granted Divorce From Loretta Gwinup Upon Payment of Costs

Evidence in the Greenfield law suit, venue here and tried Friday, was concluded late yesterday, and Judge Sparks will hear the arguments on the case next Saturday. The action was a suit filed by Henry Wiggins, a resident of that city, against the city administration to annul a street paving contract.

The law suit attracted considerable attention from Greenfield, as the street to be paved is regarded as a big construction job, and work is being delayed on account of the action, leaving the street partially torn up.

Evidence introduced attempted to show that the city administration did not track the law and grant the contract to the lowest bidder, contrary to the desires of the property owners.

In the law suit pending of John H. Creerath against Harrie Jones, a $20,000 damage suit following an alleged automobile accident in Indianapolis, the plaintiff was granted a change of venue and the action sent to Greensburg for trial.

Judge Sparks has entered judgment in the paternity case of the state, ex rel. Samantha Kammel against Fred Lucas. The jury found for the plaintiff, and Judge Sparks has entered judgment for $300 to be paid in installments designated on the court entry.

The court this morning heard the evidence in the divorce suit of Ozias Gwinup against Loretta Gwinup, and the defendant defaulted. Judge Sparks granted the plaintiff a divorce upon payment of the costs.

Evidence on a petition for support during the pendency of a divorce suit pending between Chase Floyd and Daisy Floyd, was being heard today. The divorce suit will not be heard until the September term of court.

APPOINT G. I. CHRISTIE

To Be Superintendent of International Grain and Hay Show

Lafayette, Ind., June 6.—Director G. I. Christie of the Agricultural Experiment Station, Purdue University, has been appointed superintendent of the International Grain and Hay Show to be held at Chicago on November 29 to December 6, 1924.

W. O. Fitch, was appointed assistant superintendent and another assistant superintendent will be appointed from one of the northern states at an early date.

The Grain and Hay Show is held in connection with the International Livestock Exposition which will celebrate its twenty-fifth anniversary during the coming show. Last year the Grain and Hay Show had more than 5,000 samples of corn, grain, and hay, together with a large number of additional exhibits from the agricultural colleges and the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

STAFF OF EXPERTS TO HANDLE CONVENTIONS FOR REPUBLICAN

An exceptional staff, headed by Robert J. Bender, news manager, and one of the best known political writers in the country, will cover the Republican and Democratic national conventions for the Daily Republican, a client paper of the United Press Association.

Special wires have been established in the convention halls, a corps of the fastest sending telegraph operators in the United Press system has been gathered to transmit the report and arrangements made for handling of the two big conventions.

Realizing their important part now being played by women in both political parties, an innovation in convention coverage is being introduced by the United Press in the employment of special trained women political writers who will follow the activities of the women politicians in both New York and Cleveland.

Signed stories by Dorothy Shumate, of the women's national news bureau, in Washington, will be carried daily on United Press wires. Miss Shumate will be assisted by other women reporters, who will cover the part played by the feminine element in the convention as completely as other sections of the United Press staff will cover the general convention news and features.

As a direct reflection from those who, will be in control of the convention, Senator Fess of Ohio will furnish a daily story from Cleveland which will be handled exclusively over United Press wires.

Supporting Bender, whose stories are well known to United Press client readers, and heading other divisions of the United Press staff, will be Paul R. Mallon and Frazer Edwards of the Washington bureau. Through their close association with members of the senate and house during the present administration, Mallon and Edwards are peculiarly well fitted to tell the stories growing out of the conventions.

Special features by Frank Getty and sidelights that will give a complete picture of the conventions, from events of lighter vein among the delegates to the serious conferences involving platform building and selection of candidates, will round out the United Press report.

RECORD CROWD IS EXPECTED THE FOURTH

bands which will play are the Odd Fellows band of this city, the Greensburg, New Salem and Arlington bands.

The state log rolling will formally get under way on the evening of the day before the Fourth, when there will be a monster class adoption at the Rollo Rink building in West Third street. The degree work will be conferred by the crack team of Marion camp, Indianapolis.

The current number of the Modern Woodman, the national publication of the lodge, has the following to say regarding the forthcoming meeting of Indiana Woodmen:

Great plans and preparations are being made at Rushville, Ind., for the State Log-rolling which will be held there July 4. Every member of Camp 3548 is taking keen interest in the event, as this celebration will be the twenty-fifth anniversary of the organization of the Indiana State Log-rolling association, and as we said last month, the first annual meeting of this body was held in Rushville, 1899, a quarter of a century ago.

These annual affairs in the great Hoosier state loom large in Woodcraft circles as thousands of visitors are in attendance wherever the log-rolling is held, and naturally Burr Oak Camp to give out the program but, as we said last month, it will be on an elaborate scale with entertainment provided to please everybody, both young and old. There will be all sorts of events in addition to the excellent speaking program which we expect to announce in the columns of the next issue of The Modern Woodman.

Those living within automobile distance who miss this great log-rolling at Rushville will regret it the rest of their lives, so at this time we urge every one to plan to attend and make it the biggest in the history of the Indiana State Log-rolling association. Make the Indiana boys happy with your presence and we're here to say that they are a lot of real fellows and you will like them.

Because there is some doubt as to whether this is a coat or a cape, it is known in fashionable circles as a coatcape. The lower portion is pleated to a capelike top with an embroidered collar. The material is poiret twill in the new rust shade.

HELPED HER IN EVERY WAY

So Writes Mrs. Trombley of Sharon, Vt., Concerning Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Sharon, Vermont. — "I was weak and run-down, had a tired feeling and bearing-down pains. I saw an advertisement in the newspaper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and began taking it. It has stopped these bearing-down pains and other bad feelings, and has helped me in every way. I have so much faith in the Vegetable Compound that I keep it on hand all of the time and recommend it whenever I have the opportunity."—Mrs. LEWIS TROMBLEY, Sharon, Vermont.

Glad to Help Others

"I had pains in my back and sides for many months, and my work would have to be left undone at those times. My sister told me what good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was doing her, so I tried it, and from the third bottle I was well and every one thought I looked better. I am glad to help others regain their health, and you may use my testimonial."—MABEL HARRIS, 1824 Greene Ave., Brooklyn, N.Y.

RECORD CROWD IS EXPECTED THE FOURTH

Conservative Estimates Fix Number Coming For Log Rolling and Celebration at 10,000

MAY BE EVEN GREATER

City Council Lets Down Bars, Permitting Observance of Independence Day as in Old Days

SPECTACULAR FEATURES

Industrial and Fraternal Parade, Drill Team Competition And Fireworks to be Attractions

With the Modern Woodmen state log rolling and Fourth of July celebration less than a month away, detailed preparations are practically complete for the entertainment of the largest crowd ever in Rushville. Conservative estimates fix the size of the crowd at 10,000 people, but if the weather is favorable, many more than this number are expected.

While the gathering will be primarily the annual meeting of Indiana Woodmen, it will likewise be a Fourth of July celebration on a large scale, such as Rushville never had, and which is expected to attract many people other than members of the Modern Woodman lodge.

The log rolling this year will be the twenty-fifth anniversary of the organization of the Indiana Log Rolling association, and it is regarded as significant that the first meeting was held in Rushville a quarter of a century ago.

The city council has let down the bars and will permit the unrestricted use of fireworks on the Fourth, so that the celebration will resemble one of the old-time variety, such as Rushville once enjoyed before the "safe and sane" Fourth idea was generally recognized.

A fraternal and industrial parade, in which local lodges, civic organizations and business establishments will participate, and an elaborate display of fireworks, under the direction of competent persons, will be among the spectacular features of the celebration.

Five hundred dollars in cash prizes will be awarded in the drill team contest that will take place at Memorial Park immediately after the address by Senator James E. Watson, who will make a fraternal address at the coliseum in the park at two o'clock.

Five bands have been engaged for the day, so that there will be nothing lacking in this respect. The feature band will be the Indianapolis Newsboys' musical organization, which is very popular here, having appeared in Rushville on numerous occasions during the past. Other

Knights of Columbus Sixth District Initiation Will Close With Banquet in Evening

PROGRAM IS ANNOUNCED

Walter J. Cronin of Richmond Will be Toastmaster and Local Entertainers Will Give Program

Many out-of-town people are expected in this city Sunday to attend the Knights of Columbus Sixth District initiation to be held here, with an all day program. The district is composed of Shelbyville, Connersville and this city, and each city is expected to be represented by a large delegation. People are also expected to attend from Kokomo, Richmond and Indianapolis.

The three degrees will be given at the Red Men building in West First street, the first degree to be given in the morning at nine o'clock by the Rushville council; the second degree at two o'clock in the afternoon by the Connersville degree team; and the third degree at 3:30 p. m. by the Kokomo team.

The initiation closes with an elaborate banquet to be served at six o'clock Sunday evening at the Social Club in North Morgan street. The Ladies Altar Society will have charge of the serving of the banquet. The Rev. Father Walter J. Cronin of Richmond will act as the toastmaster.

The program for the banquet will be as follows:

"I Used to Know You Ma," by Nesbit, Lavinia Compton.

"Our Order," District Deputy John R. Grace.

Prelude, C Sharp Minor, by Rachminoff, and Dance of the Demons by Holst, Brenda Kinsinger.

"Betty at the Ball Game," "You Say Taint No Use to Pray," Lavinia Compton.

Toast, Anthony Schriebe.

"Tam-O-Shanter," Brenda Kinsinger.

"The Answer" by Terry, "Mah Lindy Lou," by Strickland, Irene Reardon.

Entertainment for the ladies will be provided during the day and evening at the K. of C. club rooms and Elks' New Home.

DEFENSE, STATE ARE DIGGING IN

In Case Leopold and Loeb are Acquitted or Found Insane. Trial on Kidnaping Charge Will be Asked

PLANS OF STATE ATTORNEY

Father of Boys Pledge Themselves to Make non Attempt to "Defeat Justice" At Trial

By EDWARD C. BERR

(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Chicago, June 7—(U. P.)—State and defense in the trial of Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb, confessed slayers of 14-year-old Robert Franks, today were digging trenches from which they are to stage the greatest legal battle in Chicago's criminal history.

While State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe and his battery of aides were preparing two "air tight" cases against the two young intellectuals, one a charge of murder, the other of kidnaping for ransom, parents of the two boys made a strong bid for public sympathy.

Should Leopold and Loeb be acquitted of the murder charge, "or even be found insane," the state will immediately demand a new trial on the kidnaping indictment, it was said at Crowe's office. Both charges carry death penalties.

A brief statement, the first official word from the defense, was made public last night by fathers of the two boys. The fathers, Nathan Leopold, Sr., president of the Morris Paper Box Company, and Albert H. Loeb, millionaire vice-president of Sears-Roebuck and Company, pledged themselves to make no attempt to "defeat justice."

The statement was issued, it was believed, as a defense against public opinion throughout Chicago, which has been keenly bitter toward the two millionaire's sons who "just for the fun of it," they said, murdered young Franks. A cynical belief that the boys would escape a death sentence because of the millions spent in their defense has added to the sentiment against Leopold and Loeb.

AWAITS SENTENCE TO LIFE IMPRISONMENT

Charles Henry, Colored, Convicted For Murder of Indianapolis Policeman, at Shelbyville

JURY DELIBERATES 24 HOURS

Shelbyville, Ind., June 7—Convicted of second degree murder for the killing of Jesse Louden, a member of the Indianapolis police force, Charles Henry, colored, today awaited sentence of life imprisonment in the state prison at Michigan City.

The jury in the trial of Henry found him guilty and recommended life imprisonment late yesterday after 24 hours deliberation. Twenty-four ballots were taken before a verdict was reached.

Henry shot Louden when the officer discovered him breaking into a drug store, according to a confession read in the trial.

Attorneys for the accused man contended the confession was forced from Henry by "third degree" methods and based their defense on a plea of insanity.

ABOUT THIS TIME O' YEAR

Million Dollar Dog Industry Is Latest Business in Rush County

Banner Hog Raising County in United States Also Booms as The Banner Dog Raising County, With Opening of Wilsona Kennels on Former A. P. Walker Farm. German Police Dogs, Educated in all Lines, Will be Raised. Ben H. Wilson Promotes Business For Pleasure, But Incidentally Has a Dog-Gone Good Business

Besides being the banner hog raising county in the United States, Rush county booms as a contender for honors as the banner dog raising county.

There is under process of construction on the farm known as the A. P. Walker farm, two miles west of Rushville, a dog kennel business, which the owner, Ben H. Wilson, says will be the largest and best equipped dog farm in the United States.

The entire beautiful farm is to be the home for "educating" and training German Police dogs. It will be in full operation this summer, with between 40 and 60 of the high priced dogs on hand.

Mr. Wilson who recently moved here, after buying the farm, is a federal tax attorney, but as a sideline is interested in the dog business. Raising dogs with him is for the amusement and entertainment he gets out of it, he declares, and of course when he gets a supply on hands, he sells them to people who want them.

He has been financially interested in the Carnegy Dog Kennels of near Kansas City, and the dogs are being shipped from that place to his farm here. At the present time he has six of the German Police dogs, and next month 12 will arrive direct from Germany.

These dogs are all of the pedigree stock, with long names similar to registered cattle and swine. They have almost human training power, according to Mr. Wilson, and can be spoken to and directed to do things that other dogs can not do.

A dog can be told to watch an individual, and Mr. Wilson says that if the person would attempt to move, the dog would grab him. These dogs are used by the police forces of many of the foreign countries and in the United States. They are endowed

BIRTHS DOUBLE DEATHS IN MAY

Rush County Had 26 Newcomers and Grim Reaper Reported Harvest of 15 During Month

COUNTY HEALTH STATISTICS

Record Shows That County Territory Had 32 Cases of Diseases And City Only Nine

There were almost twice as many births as deaths in Rush county during the month of May, according to the records on file in the office of Dr. E. L. Wooden, county health officer, which shows a total of 26 births and 15 deaths.

The city of Rushville was almost equal in the county, with ten births and nine deaths, but in the country there were 16 births and only six deaths.

Contagious diseases prevailed extensively in the territory outside of the city, with thirty cases of measles being reported, one typhoid and one case of mumps. In Rushville city during May there were six cases of smallpox and 3 cases of measles. The smallpox cases were confined to one family.

The births reported for the rural districts and the townships, are as follows for the month of May: Maricle Holzhimer, Anderson

Paul Ayres, Washington Charles B. Dugan, Orange Edward M. Hammond, Anderson Mona Alvretta Arbuckle, Anderson Oliver Paul Richey, Anderson Wayne Emerson Reber, Orange Robert Eugene Gaylor, Posey Bobby Gale Redden, Posey

CANDIDATES FILE ITEMS OF EXPENSE

These Who Sought Nominations Comply With Law by Making a Financial Accounting

NO LARGE SUMS EXPENDED

Most of Money Spent in Campaign Went For Advertising, Cards and Party Contributions

Practically all of the primary candidates in the May 6 election have followed the law, and filed their expense accounts with Loren Martin county clerk. The law makes it compulsory for all candidates to file an expense list within thirty days after an election.

The only exceptions are committeemen and delegates who are not required to file an expense account. The expenses as filed in Rush county are not high, and no large sums were expended. Most of the money was spent for advertising, cards and with donations to the party organizations. No candidate made a promise.

The complete list of expenses as filed, are as follows: Leonard M. Barlow $8.25; Aloysius Carr, $29.24; Lawrence A. Handley of Richmond democratic candidate for congress, $143.28; George H. Bell, $17.00; William R. Martin, $37.02; John M. Lee, $5; John D. Osborne $13; Harry B. Armstrong, $23.50.

Harry Myers, $31.88; Adolphus Cameron, none; Charles M. Trowbridge, $29.50; J. A. Stevens, $15; Rowland H. Hill, $22; Samuel G. Gregg, $34.45; O. J. Cook, $3.50; T. B. Staples $3.50; Ellis B. Werner $8.02; Chester L. Jinks $11.00; Albert C. Stevens, none.

Howard Clawson, none; Edwin O. George $24; Sidney L. Hunt, $10; Loren Martin $19.50; Frank Lawrence $37; Phil Wilk $42.56; Chester A. Mead $22.50; Charles M. DeMumbrum $78.19; Gates Ketchum none; William C. Morgan $43; L. M. Coons $8.90; Claude Walker, $14; Geston P. Hunt, none.

CLEVELAND READY FOR CONVENTION

Republican Headquarters Boil with Activity and Hotels Hum With Convention Chatter

RADIO TO REPORT TO WORLD

Downtown District Decked Out in Miles of Bunting and Flags Flying From Buildings

By JULIAN SNYDER

(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Cleveland, O., June 7—Cleveland today was ready to welcome its first great political convention.

An air of expectancy pervaded the city. The Republican headquarters boiled with activity. Hotels hummed with convention chatter. Already a vast host of strangers were here for the great event.

Sunday and Monday trains will rumble into town with the Republican army of delegates from all parts of the nation.

Tuesday, John T. Adams, chairman of the Republican National Committee, will raise the convention gavel in Cleveland Public hall.

And as the gavel falls, perhaps audible to the 13,000 delegates and visitors jammed in the great auditorium, more than 1,000 trained writers and, for the first time in history, the radio will start reporting to the world another chapter in American political history.

Cleveland today speeded to completion the last-minute preparations for the convention.

The city put on a holiday garb. The downtown district was decked out in miles of red, white and blue bunting. Flags were flying from most every lamppost and building.

Merchants had their store windows scored and placed their newest stocks in pleasing array to catch the eye, for it is well known that with a national convention comes a deluge of gold. It is estimated that more than half a million dollars will be spent here next week. Scores of vendors counted their renewed stocks of novelties. Strange out-of-the-state faces thronged the streets—official-looking men, nondescript appearing men, handsomely gowned women, gaudily dressed, painted women, cripples and beggars. All were in town for the big show.

There was a wide variance today between the rumors of bootleggers and predictions of city officials that the convention will be "bone" dry.

WIDOW FREED AFTER TRIAL FOR MURDER

Mrs. Elda G. Simmermyer of Connersville, Accused of Slaughtering Husband, is Acquitted

AN ACCIDENT, HER DEFENSE

Connersville, Ind., June 7—Mrs. Elda G. Simmermyer, 27 years old, was found not guilty of the murder of her husband, John J. Simmermyer, by a jury in Fayette Circuit court at 8:40 o'clock Friday evening. The case went to the jury at 7 o'clock, and the verdict was reached after four ballots. Mrs. Simmermyer took the stand in her own behalf today and, though subjected to a grilling cross-examination, maintained in every detail the story of the shooting which, she said, was an accident resulting when she attempted to take a .22 caliber rifle from her husband to prevent him from carrying out a threat to kill her and take his own life.

A large crowd was in the court room when the verdict was returned. Mrs. Simmermyer received the kiss of freedom in tears. Judge E. Ralph Himelick had gone to his home when the jury reported that it had arrived at a verdict at 8:20 o'clock. He was immediately called and the verdict received twenty minutes later.

The jury, it is understood, stood ten to two for acquittal on the first ballot and eleven to one on the next two ballots.

Simmermyer died from a bullet wound at his home southwest of here May 14.

cago. New York Baldwin apples steady to firm at $5 to $5.50 per barrel in Eastern city markets.

DAIRY PRODUCTS—Butter markets steady to firm during the week
but unsettled at the close. Quality in current receipts has improved until it is satisfactory for storing, and as prices are considered close to low point by some operators, into-storage
movement has begun a large scale.
No imports of any consequence, but asking prices are such as to make imports a possibility again. Closing wholesale prices at 92 score butter
today: New York and Boston 40½;
Chicago 39½; Phila 41½; Cheese markets also steady to firm after advances averaging 1c. Trading fairly active and some speculative interest evident. Receipt beginning to show

dling spot cotton in 10 designated spot markets declined 172 points
during the week, closing at 29.22c per lb. New York July future contracts declined 125 points closing at 28.40c.

GRAIN—Wheat market slightly lower but general situation but little changed. World's wheat stocks still materially above last year but reports indicate smaller crop this year.
Weather conditions now an important factor. Corn higher on light receipts and unfavorable crop conditions. Oats higher with corn but also had independent strength on light receipts. Quoted June 6: No. 1 dark northern spring Mpls. $1.13 to $1.31;

Louis 50c; Kansas City 48½.

HAY—Timothy hay markets continued firm, good quality hay but heavy mixtures and low grades very slow sale at almost all markets. Alfalfa and prairie markets inactive.
New alfalfa generally of poor quality
while demand is principally for good dairy hay. Purchases for both alfalfa and prairie only for current need.
Quoted June 6: No. 1 timothy Boston
$21.50, New York $32, Pittsburgh
$26.50; Cincinnati $24.75, Chicago
$27; St. Louis $24.50; Atlanta $30.

MANY ENTRIES FOR
VICE PRESIDENT

G. O. P. Delegates Gossiping About
Chances of Various Entries in Contest For 2nd Place

SEN. BORAH MENTIONED

One of Leading Fortune Tellers
Foretold That James E. Watson
Would be Vice President

By CHARLES P. STEWART
(N.E. Service Staff Writer)

Cleveland, June 7.—With only one
presidential probability before the
convention, delegates to the big Republican gathering here are getting
as much fun as they can out of gos-
siping about the chances of the various entries in the contest for second
place.

Senator William E. Borah of Idaho is mentioned a great deal. He's
about the best possible compromise
between an "insurgent" and "a regular". He's a good campaigner. He
has "jazz", in which Coolidge is
somewhat lacking. And he's from the west. It would be better, however, if
he came from a state with more electoral votes.

Senator George Wharton Pepper of Pennsylvania was quite strongly
urged a few weeks ago but isn't so
much talked of now. He's from a state with lots of votes but it's too
far east.

Ex-Senator Albert J. Beveridge is
pretty strong. Indiana has both
votes and the right kind of location.
Beveridge has a reputation as a progressive. President Coolidge thought
well enough of him as a running
mate about a month ago to have
talked the matter over with him.

Senator James E. Watson, another
Hoosier, is a candidate, too. One of the leading Washington fortune tel-
lers foretold recently that he'd be
vice president—if that counts for
anything.

Senator Charles L. McNary of Oregon is well spoken of. As sponsor
of the McNary bill, the purpose of
which is to boost prices of agricultural products, it's believed the farmers would like him.

Charles G. Dawes has been quoted
to the effect that he didn't want the
nomination, but he has supporters
nevertheless.

Senator Arthur Capper of Kansas
and ex-Senator William S. Kenyon
of Iowa are from farm states and
mildly progressive in politics. Missouri is quite a farm state likewise
and none too safely Republican, so
a favorite son from there might
strengthen the ticket. Hence Gov.
Arthur M. Hyde is suggested.

Ex-Governor Frank O. Lowden of
Illinois has considerable support. So
has Senator Frank B. Willis of Ohio
though he's hurt himself with the
"insurgent" element by criticizing
the recent congressional investigations, which were of "insurgent" inspiration mainly.

The names of Gen. John J. Pershing, who calls Wyoming his home
state, and James W. Garard of New York, who was American ambassador in Berlin when the war broke out
are heard occasionally.

Ralph B. Strassburger is a rich
Pennsylvanian who would like the
nomination and the frequency and
emphasis with which he has said so
have made him somewhat of a sure-
enough candidate. His boom is small,
to be sure, and yet creditable considering that he produced it all by
himself out of nothing at all.

TRANSFERS IN

REAL ESTATE

Real estate trade in Rush county
was slack the last half of May, according to the real estate transfer records, which show only eleven transactions. The total amount of money involved amounted to only $42,326. The largest sale was $15,- 000, which sum was paid for a farm of 100 acres in Noble township. The transfer records show the following:

Thomas P. Sawyer to Richard
Rowe, Lots 20, 21, 22, 23 in Lilly
M. Rea's addition to Falmouth, $800.
Queen V. Lord to Berry Rush and Myrtle Rush lot 63 in the corrected
plat of Mays, Ind., $125.

A Paradox

A writer in a big city newspaper
says that business men have few
flowers for congress and its tax law,
but that judged by the standards of
the parliaments of other great nations, congress has done some good
things and not many foolish ones.

He points out that Germany,
France and England are on the verge
of a business precipice, with business
issues at stake that would raise the
hair of business in America, and
that if the United States were operating on the European plan, we
might have Brookhart or Heflin for
president today, because the government has been defeated on the soldiers' bonus, Japanese exclusion and
the Mellon tax reform.

The conclusion is somewhat of a paradox. Congress is not entitled to
any credit for the stability of our
government, as compared with the
hectic governments of Europe.

If it were left to congress, someone of the Brookhart or Heflin stripe
would be president, if congress is to
be judged by the way it has voted.

But fortunately, our constitution
does not permit calling an election
every time a "crisis" arises or the
president is not supported by congress. If it did, we would never know
when we get up in the morning who
our president was.

We in the United States have the
good fortune to have been started
right by a group of wise and far-seeing men, who understood the tyranny
of a minority, an example of which
we have just seen in congress.

Of course, congress did a few
good things, not the least of which
was the defeat of the Muscle Shoals
and the McNary-Blaug bills, both
of which proposed unwarranted raids
on the treasury at a time when the
popular demand was for economy in government and tax reduction.

Bad Boys

The former governor of Nathan Leopold, one of the self-confessed
slayers of young Robert Franks in Chicago, says the death of a bird or
an animal never seemed to have any
effect on him, except perhaps one of
curiosity, when he was a lad.

He was always head-strong and
had no respect for his parents, she adds. In other words, he was a bad
boy.

And the plight in which Leopold
now finds himself is the fate of bad
boys. The boy who will not listen to advice from his elders is destined to pay his name on the role at some
penal institution.

Parental guidance is essential and
young folks who are not compelled,
if not willing, to follow in the paths
that are shown to them, will come to
no good end.

Leopold had a mania for killing
and collecting birds. He regarded
life lightly—all too lightly. "I should

Hunt's Washington Letter

BY HARRY B. HUNT

NEA Service Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Procedings of the Cleveland convention may be speeded up in order to
make possible an adjournment late
on the evening of Thursday, June 12.

For more than a few of the delegates view with apprehension the
possibility of the convention concluding its activities on Friday, the thirteenth.

Even among the "leaders" there
are many who face unafraid the
combined threats of Democrats and Independents, but who lose their
nerve and complacency at the
prospect of picking a vice presidential candidate and winding up the
affairs of the session on a date
popularly reputed to be laden with
distress and disaster.

Of course these gentlemen are
not superstitious. They'll tell you frankly they are not.

But then, they ask, why take a chance? Why tempt Fate?

DEMOCRATIC interest in the Cleveland convention extends
chiefly to the sort of platform the
G. O. P. carpenters build.

For the Democratic program
calls for the construction of a platform which will be more attractive
and spacious than that of the Republicans—one on which there will
be room for all who fear faulty
construction may cause a collapse
in the G. O. P. structure.

Incidentally, also, the Democratic
architects will study the plan of
the Cleveland platform in the hope
of locating weak spots. For in the campaign, the plan of battle to defeat Coolidge calls first and fore-
most for knocking the props from
under the promises and program
which his party chiefs will lay
down for him.

NEXT to the matter of the Republican platform, Democratic
interest now centers in the sort of
showing which will be made by the
"Farmer-Labor" party convention

at St. Paul, June 17.

For on the extent to which that
third-party movement makes headway depends very largely the latent danger to the old parties in
the La Follette movement, which
will take shape at the conference
in Cleveland, July 4.

If the St. Paul convention reveals
a substantial following in the face
of repudiation by La Follette and
by the American Federation of Labor, it may mean a split in the
independent vote in the northwest
which would result in not merely a
third but a fourth party this fall.

Any such division, of course,
would jeopardize the effectiveness
of the proposed independent campaign. Two fighting "independent"
groups simply would kill each other off and leave everything
lovely for the dominant "old party"
in the northwest—such party, of
course, is the G. O. P.

SHOULD the St. Paul convention
"fizzle," however, then the La
Follette gathering at Cleveland becomes of major importance.

The assertion is openly made in
some quarters that, under cover
assistance is being given the St.
Paul gathering by individuals and
interests close to the G. O. P. in
the belief that by encouraging an
off-shoot independent organization
of extreme radicals they can un-
dermine and discredit any other
independent movement.

Efforts to tie the St. Paul meeting up with the American Federation of Labor finally reached the
point where Samuel Gompers issued a blanket warning to all organized labor that an attempt was
being made to trick it into becoming a cat's paw for "Communist
enemies of orderly development."
Gompers flatly stated that enemies
of organized labor "are uniting
with communists and professional
radicals" in promoting the St. Paul
gathering and urged all loyal la-
borites to stay away.

On the effect of this warning
may depend the fate of a real
"third party" this year.

That Rushville is soon to have another traction line seems almost beyond adoubt and that Rushville will be the southern terminus of the line
for a time is assured. C. F. Prichard of Knightstown was here yesterday in the interest of the proposed line from Shirley here.

The members of the Women's Board of Charities today visited the county jail and poor farm and were elated over the condition in which they found both places. The board is composed of Mrs. J. B. Reeve,
Mrs. Raymond Hargrove, Mrs. B. F.
Miller and Miss Hattie Kerr. The ladies were profuse in their praise of Sidney Hunt, the superintendent of the county infirmary.

Harry Churchill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Churchill, fell off a bicycle this morning and broke his left leg
just below the hip. He was riding a delivery wheel used at the Lon Havens grocery store and in some manner the front wheel caught in the car tracks near Harrison street on Seventh.

Capt. John K. Gowdy, Fon Riggs
and Will Meredith were visitors at the Jersey Isle Stock farm today
and are high in their praise of the fine cattle which will be sold in the big Jersey sale this month.

The people of Milroy are looking forward to a big day next Saturday. The day will be known as automobile day and a big Reo parade will be held at ten o'clock, in which it is said one hundred cars will be seen.

Phil Wilk returned from Liberty
today where he was awarded contracts amounting to $17,000 for constructing gravel roads in Union county.

Ben Sparks has assumed his duties as second assistant city mail carrier and is now delivering the mail while Herman Odnes is taking his vacation.

Thomas W. Lytle, the druggist, has received the first bouquet of sweet peas from the seeds which he gave away in the spring. It was presented to him by Mrs. Frank Mull.

A large number of people of this place heard the lecture by Miss Mary Logan, and the special singing by Ben Norris and family at Lit-

Georgia Lady Says She Has Grown Stronger by Taking
Cardui—Thoroughly Convinced of Its Merits.

Clyattville, Ga.—In a statement
which she gave at her home on R. F.
D. 1, here, Mrs. T. A. Copeland said:
"I have, I believe, avoided a good
deal of suffering by the use of Cardui,
and am thoroughly convinced that it
has been of great benefit to me.

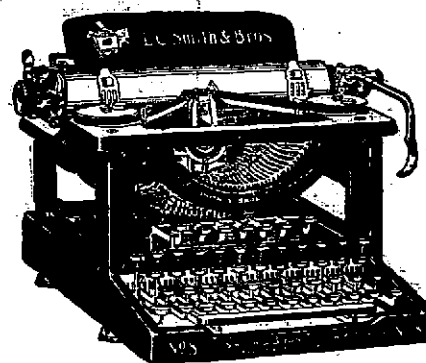

"Before the birth of two of my
children, I grew so weak and nervous
I could hardly go, and suffered. . .
I had a friend who told me of Cardui,
so the next time when I grew so weak
and run-down I began to use it. I used it three months. I grew stronger
and less nervous. The baby was stronger and a better baby, and I
really believe it was because I built
up my strength with this splendid
tonic."

Cardui has been in successful use
for more than forty years. Thousands
of women have written to tell of the
beneficial results obtained by taking
Cardui, and to recommend it to others.

It is a mild, harmless, purely vegetable medicinal preparation—a product of practical experience, scientific
investigation and pharmaceutical skill.

The Shifting Mechanism
Is Important

It makes a difference whether you have to lift a carriage
or just a segment

Ball Bearing Long Wearing

In shifting to write capitals and figures on an L. C. Smith &
Bros. typewriter, you touch the shift key and shift the type segment
—not the entire carriage.

This is the reason why our wide carriage machines shift just as easily as the regular correspondence size.

The segment shift is on ball bearings and works easily and exactly. The printing point is always stationary when the type strikes
the paper.

This is only one of the many mechanical features in which the L.
C. Smith & Bros. typewriter excels.

Weakens U. S. Boxing Team

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, June 7—With only one outstanding fighter of class, the American Olympic boxing team is not as formidable as the squad that went to Antwerp in 1920. Nearly all of the good amateur boxers that were developed since the Antwerp games turned professional, and left the class in a rather emaciated condition.

Eddie Eagen, former captain of the Yale boxing team, now a Rhodes scholar at Oxford, is the only outstanding boxer on the team. He is not only the best of the American amateurs, but he is about the best in the world. Eagen, who was appointed to the team without qualifying, may be started in both the light heavyweight and heavyweight classes, and he has a fine chance to win the championship in both classes.

The American team won only two championships in the last Olympic boxing matches. Fraud de Gennaro, who is now one of the headliners of the professional ring under the name of Gennaro, won the flyweight championship, and Sam Mossberg won the lightweight title.

Bill Spengler, boxing instructor at the New York police school, had

Well trained dogs of this breed bring good prices. Motion picture companies are the best buyers and pay almost any price for a dog that can do everything but talk.

Mr. Wilson owns Leo, the prize dog of several nations. Leo will arrive here from the Missouri kennels next month. Leo spent four years on the Berlin police force, and Mr. Wilson says he has many scars to show where he has engaged in fights. This dog took the grand champion prize of practically all foreign countries and became the property of Mr. Wilson, who would not consider even an offer of $5,000 for him.

Just a mere pup, untrained, will bring $250. Others range in price up to $2,000. They are friendly, if trained in that manner, he asserts, but vicious if given the word to guard or attack.

The prize champion Leo is untouched by human hands. He was trained that way. No one dare place a hand upon him. Whenever it becomes necessary to put a muzzle or collar on him, the dog bows his head and permits it, but Mr. Wilson says the human hand must not attempt to stroke or pat him.

Then on the other hand, this same dog may be told to guard a helpless baby with all of the safety in the world for the child. A person's life would be endangered if they attempted to remove the child. It is one dog he says, that can be told to watch his master, and it is one way that Mr. Wilson can keep him still for a few minutes, he says.

Mr. Wilson explained that you have to educate the dogs, the same as a child. These twelve imported dogs from Germany have heard only

German spoken, and now it will be necessary to teach them the meaning of the customary commands in English.

These dogs are purchased by people in all walks of life. They not only afford protection, but they make good pets, and those that are on the farm now, are as playful and friendly as the common street dog. Although the farm is not ready for business Mr. Wilson has received many inquiries about dogs and before the summer is over, Rushville will be the mecca for high grade dogs from all over the country.

New kennels are being built over the grounds, and these houses are the most modern of any, Mr. Wilson said. In addition to these homes, there is a building devoted to the care of the dogs. A dog kitchen with large vats for cooking their food, occupies one room and then the dogs have a bath room, where regular tubs will be provided and the baths given them at certain times. The bath room has a lounging room, where the dogs "loaf" while drying.

Then there is a hospital ward, because Mr. Wilson says dogs get sick, and need attention. The hospital ward is also used as a quarantine hospital, where imported dogs and others shipped in, are detained and examined for any dog disease.

Mr. Wilson says he doesn't know a dog-gone thing about dogs, but a visit to the farm will reveal that he is an expert in the business, and that it has a dog-gone bright future for Rush county.

The farm here will gradually absorb the Carnegie dog kennels, and will be known as the Wilsona Dog Farm. Bird dogs may also be raised on a small scale, but the bulk of the business will deal with the German police dogs, and the business is termed as a million dollar industry for Rush county.

Rumor said the city "will be the wettest in history and that liquor in almost unlimited quantities will be available.

A Safety Director Edwin Barry still held to his forecast that the convention will be "the driest" in history.

Finishing touches in the decoration of Cleveland Public Hall, where the convention will be called to order next Tuesday, were being rushed today.

The great auditorium—simply an elongated bowl with a roof covering it, is draped outside and in with national colors. The auditorium will seat more than 13,000. Sixth street, leading to the public hall, is a veritable arch of flags and red, white and blue bunting.

Inside the building the seats, rising one above the other in the stadium-like oval structure, stand out in black relief amid festoons of national colors.

The hall is lighted by 1,075 lamps of 200 watts each of white light, located behind a field of glass panels in the ceiling 80 feet above the floor.

More spectacular is the scheme of colored lights. There are amber, red and blue lights behind the glass screens. All are under control of a dimmer, so that a soft amber or brilliant and red may diffuse the great chamber. The lights are so arranged that a section of the hall may be blocked off in white light a second section in red and a third in blue or amber. Or, the colors may be combined to produce various prints and shades.

Lights placed about 12 feet apart under the lower balconies illuminate the arena.

A pipe organ of 10,000 pipes and 150 direct speaking stops will furnish music during the convention.

The stage upon which high officials of the government will occupy the seats of honor and from which the "keynote" and nominating speech or speeches will be made is exceedingly spacious, measuring 104 by 50 feet. The opening is 72 feet wide and is surmounted by an arch 42 feet 6 inches high. The opening is fitted with a steel and asbestos curtain weighing 40 tons, with its counter weights. It is operated by hydraulic power.

There are more than 30 private rooms directly off of the stage especially fitted up for the convenience of the Republican leaders and distinguished guests.

There will be 70 doorkeepers on duty under direction of General Willard Metcalf of Kansas. The doorkeepers have been appointed from all parts of the country. One hundred and fifty ushers will seat the delegates and visitors.

Lafayette B. Gleason of New York is secretary, and Colonel Edward P. Thayer is sergeant-at-arms of the convention.

Of the decorations downtown, historic Public Square is perhaps most lavishly festooned. Thirty-two great pillars are wrapped in the national colors and connected by wires strung with hundreds of electric lights.

The most spectacular lighting effect of the convention will be Wednesday evening, when the likeness of President Coolidge and Secretary of State Charles Hughes and other prominent Republicans will be flashed across the sky over the city by fireworks.

Most people will see, hear and read about the convention than any convention in history. Hundreds of telegraph wires have been strung into Public Hall for the use of newspapers and press associations. Fifty telephone booths have been installed. S. C. Moule, division superintendent of the local telephone company, said the wire system is the most elaborate in the history of political conventions.

For the first time the convention will be broadcast by radio. Convention proceedings will be broadcast by three Cleveland stations directly, and by a dozen other stations in other parts of the country through continuous long distance service telephone from the convention hall to the radio instruments. It is estimated that 20,000,000 persons will "listen in" on the convention.

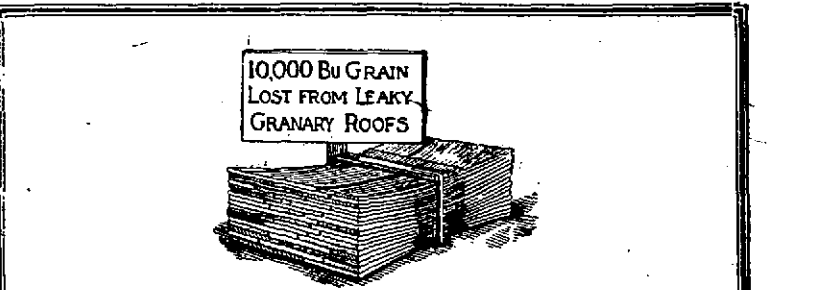

Then also for the first time the new system of sending photographs by telegraph wire by means of recently perfected instruments will be used commercially by the American Telegraph and Telephone Co. Thus it will be possible for a newspaper hundreds of miles distant to procure and publish a picture of the convention the same day the picture is snapped in Cleveland. The system was tried out several weeks ago.

Hundreds of loud speakers reproducing will carry all the speeches before the convention to roped-off spaces outside the building, where accommodations for 50,000 persons have been arranged. Through the reproducing, the speeches may be heard outside the building practically as well as inside.

Society

The Tri Kappa sorority will meet Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Buell living east of the city, Mrs. Edith Ashworth being the hostess. All members are urged to be present.

Miss Thelma Fanning entertained with a dinner party at her home in North Main Street last evening. Those present were Misses Lavinia Compton, Miss Ruth Martin, Miss Phyllis Casady and Ralph Plessinger, Walter Stevens and James Waites.

One of the largest conventions of the Ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic was held in Frankfort this week. The officers elected for the ensuing year were as follows: Mrs. Adelia Maxwell of Delphi, Ind., president; Mrs. Edna Dagler of this city, department treasurer. This being a very responsible office the local Circle, to which she belonged considered it a very high honor to have one of their members elected to this position. The 1925 encampment of the G. A. R. will be held in Princeton. Several members of Mattox Circle attended the encampment at Frankfort, among whom were Mrs. Eva Offutt, Mrs. Corelia Lyons, Lillian Joffit and Mrs. Edna Dagler, who was sent as a delegate to the convention. Mrs. Emma Schneider of Richmond was the retiring president.

Miss Mabel C. Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Lee, living west of the city, and Robert T. Marshall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Marshall, also living a short distance west of the city, were married at the Manse, 122 West Fifth street at eight o'clock this morning, by the Rev. Gibson Wilson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of this city. The Westminster Wedding ceremony was used with the ring service and responses. The witnesses were the Misses Helen Hinchman and Dorothy Brecheisen, friends of the bride.

Mr. Marshall was a graduate of the 1924 graduation class of the local high school and is employed by the Farmer's Service Station, of this city. Mrs. Marshall is a graduate of the Arlington high school, class of 1922, and has been employed in the office of the I. & C. Traction Company. After a wedding journey in various parts of Kentucky, they will return to this city for residence.

MARRIAGE LICENSE

The following licenses have been issued by Loren Martin, county clerk: Arthur Parker, a farmer and Mrs. Ruth Harris of this county. The couple were married this morning by John P. Stech, justice of peace, at his office in the court house; Robert T. Marshall, an elevator worker and Mable C. Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lee of Posey township.

Ft. Wayne, Ind., June 7.—Organization of a Ft. Wayne Chapter of the Order of DeMolay, a Masonic Organization for boys between 15 and 21 years, is under way here. The organization is being sponsored by the Cadessia Grotto. Plans are being made to secure uniforms for a degree team, a band and a drum corps.

Terre Haute—State vegetable growers will meet here June 18.

Mrs. Jane Cook

Winslow, Ind.—"I have taken Dr. Pierce's medicines for years. I took the 'Favorite Prescription' when I was bringing up my family and I truly believe it saved me lots of suffering. I think it is the best woman's medicine on earth. I have also taken Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and think it is a fine tonic to build up the general health. And I believe there is nothing to compare with the 'Pleasant Pellets' as a liver regulator. They can't be beat!"—Mrs. Jane Cook.

Get Dr. Pierce's remedies at any drug store, in tablets or liquid. Write Dr. Pierce, President Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., for free medical advice. Send 10c to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., for trial package of any of Dr. Pierce's remedies.

CHURCH WEDDING BEAUTIFUL EVENT

A beautiful church wedding was solemnized Friday evening at 6:30 o'clock at the Main Street Christian church, when Miss Katherine Wyatt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warden Wyatt, of this city, became the bride of Harold Perkins, of Indianapolis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Perkins of this city. The church was prettily decorated for the occasion with a profusion of spring flowers, spirea, locust, and peonies, entwined with ferns and other greenery. The ceremony was performed in front of the rostrum, before a bank of flowers, set off with cathedral candles.

Preceding the ceremony Merle Maupin, of Chicago, Ill., and formerly of this city, played a group of selections on the organ, in his usual splendid manner. The selections were "Pomp and Circumstance" by Elgar; and "Chanson" by Fauré. For the bridal procession he played the Lohengrin and Mendelssohn wedding marches. The bridesmaids, the Misses Mary Louise Wyatt, sister of the bride, Lois Reeve and Betty Fisher of Indianapolis, entered the church from the south door, the maid of honor, Miss Dorothy Sparks, came down the main aisle, and the minister, the Rev. C. M. Yocum, of St. Louis, Mo., former pastor of the church, together with the bridegroom and the best man, Frank Cox, of Indianapolis, came to the altar from the north door. The bride, on the arm of her father, then entered the church and was led down the main aisle to the altar by the little flower girl, Mary Jane Ann Wilson and the ring bearer Gene Ball. The ushers were John B. Wyatt, brother of the bride, Lamoine Perkins, brother of the bridegroom, and Ad Miller, of Indianapolis.

The Episcopal ring service was read by the minister and during the ceremony Mr. Maupin played a group of bridal airs, "Pale Hands," "I Loved Beside the Shalimar," by Woodford-Pinder; "I Love You Truly," by Bond and "Blest Be The Tie That Binds." Mrs. Alfred Norris sang "O Promise Me" and "Just a Song at Twilight," before the ceremony and after the ceremony, she sang "The Thirtieth Prayer."

The bride looked lovely, wearing a beautiful white crepe de chine gown trimmed in white val lace, and a veil caught in rap effect with pearls. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Sparks, the maid of honor, was dressed in orchid georgette crepe and the bridesmaids wore blue georgette. The bride's attendants all carried bouquets of pink roses.

Following the ceremony at the church, a bridal luncheon and reception was held at the home of the bride's parents in East Third street for eighty guests. The home was appropriately decorated with spring flowers and ferns. Members of the bridal party were in the receiving line and after the arrival of the guests, they went to the dining room, where the luncheon was served. The bride's guests were seated at a long table the appointments of which were carried out in white. The remainder of the guests were served from small tables placed throughout the different rooms of the home.

Mr. and Mrs. Perkins left last night for Indianapolis and from there they went to Chicago, Ill., on a wedding trip, after which they will be at home to their friends at the Dolly Madison Apartments, twelfth and Alabama streets, Indianapolis.

Among the out-of-town guests present for the wedding were Mrs. H. S. Sney and Mrs. J. C. Wallace of Philadelphia, Pa.; Mrs. V. S. Alexander of New York; Mrs. H. M. Elstrum, Mr. and Mrs. Don Bridge, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wolfe, Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Howard, Mr. and Mrs. Warden Maxwell, Mr. and Mrs. John Link, Miss Eleanor Carpenter, Mrs. Kate Nolan, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Wieland, Volney Brown, Kersey McCone, Lee Detehon, Terman Inglehart, Addison Miller, Frank Cox and Miss Elizabeth Fisher all of Indianapolis; Mrs. David Wiley and Kenneth Kline of Bloomington, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. Don Earnhart of Marion, Norman Reed of Milwaukee, Wis., and Mrs. Audrey Johnson of Laurel.

The bride is one of the popular young ladies of this city, and is a member of the Psi Iota Xi sorority, and Kappa Alpha Theta sorority. She attended Mary Baldwin Seminary at Staunton, Virginia, and is a graduate of Indiana University at Bloomington, Ind. During the year she has been engaged as the teacher of the kindergarten in the local schools. A number of pre-nuptial social functions have been given in her honor by her friends. Mr. Perkins is a graduate of Wobash college and is a member of the Beta Theta Pi and Phi Beta Kappa fraternities. He is now employed in the advertising department of the Indianapolis News.

ARGUMENTS TO BE HEARD NEXT WEEK

Evidence Concluded in Case of Henry Wiggins Against Greenfield City Administration

PATERNITY CASE JUDGMENT

Ozias Gwinnup is Granted Divorce From Loretta Gwinnup Upon Payment of Costs

Evidence in the Greenfield law suit, venue here and tried Friday, was concluded late yesterday, and Judge Sparks will hear the arguments on the case next Saturday. The action was a suit filed by Henry Wiggins, a resident of that city, against the city administration to annul a street paving contract.

The law suit attracted considerable attention from Greenfield, as the street to be paved is regarded as a big construction job, and work is being delayed on account of the action, leaving the street partially torn up.

Evidence introduced attempted to show that the city administration did not track the law and grant the contract to the lowest bidder, contrary to the desires of the property owners.

In the law suit pending of John H. Creecraft against Harrie Jones, a $20,000 damage suit following an alleged automobile accident in Indianapolis, the plaintiff was granted a change of venue and the action sent to Greensburg for trial.

Judge Sparks has entered judgment in the paternity case of the state, ex rel, Samantha Kammel against Fred Lucas. The jury found for the plaintiff, and Judge Sparks has entered judgment for $300 to be paid in installments designated on the court entry.

The court this morning heard the evidence in the divorce suit of Ozias Gwinnup against Loretta Gwinnup, and the defendant defaulted. Judge Sparks granted the plaintiff a divorce upon payment of the costs.

Evidence on a petition for support during the pendency of a divorce suit pending between Chase Floyd and Daisy Floyd, was being heard today. The divorce suit will not be heard until the September term of court.

APPOINT G. I. CHRISTIE

To Be Superintendent of International Grain and Hay Show

Lafayette, Ind., June 6.—Director G. I. Christie of the Agricultural Experiment Station, Purdue University, has been appointed superintendent of the International grain and Hay Show to be held at Chicago on November 29 to December 6, 1924.

W. O. Fitch, was appointed assistant superintendent and another assistant superintendent will be appointed from one of the northern states at an early date.

The Grain and Hay Show is held in connection with the International Livestock Exposition which will celebrate its twenty-fifth anniversary during the coming show. Last year the Grain and Hay Show had more than 5,000 samples of corn, grain, and hay, together with a large number of additional exhibits from the agricultural colleges and the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

STAFF OF EXPERTS TO HANDLE CONVENTIONS FOR REPUBLICAN

An exceptional staff, headed by Robert J. Bender, news manager, and one of the best known political writers in the country, will cover the Republican and Democratic national conventions for the Daily Republican, a client paper of the United Press Association.

Special wires have been established in the convention halls, a corps of the fastest sending telegraph operators in the United Press system has been gathered to transmit the report and arrangements made for handling of the two big conventions.

Realizing their important part now being played by women in both political parties, an innovation in convention coverage is being introduced by the United Press in the employment of special trained women political writers who will follow the activities of the women politicians in both New York and Cleveland.

Signed stories by Dorothy Shumate, of the women's national news bureau, in Washington, will be carried daily on United Press wires. Miss Shumate will be assisted by other women reporters, who will cover the part played by the feminine element in the convention as completely as other sections of the United Press staff will cover the general convention news and features.

As a direct reflection from those who will be in control of the convention, Senator Fess of Ohio will furnish a daily story from Cleveland which will be handled exclusively over United Press wires.

Supporting Bender, whose stories are well known to United Press client readers, and heading other divisions of the United Press staff, will be Paul R. Mallon and Frazer Edwards of the Washington bureau. Through their close association with members of the senate and house during the present administration, Mallon and Edwards are peculiarly well fitted to tell the stories growing out of the conventions.

Special features by Frank Getty and sidelights that will give a complete picture of the conventions, from events of lighter vein among the delegates to the serious conferences involving platform building and selection of candidates, will round out the United Press report.

RECORD CROWD IS EXPECTED THE FOURTH

bands which will play are the Odd Fellows band of this city, the Greensburg, New Salem and Arlington bands.

The state log rolling will formally get under way on the evening of the day before the Fourth, when there will be a monster class adoption at the Rollo Rink building in West Third street. The degree work will be conferred by the crack team of Marion camp, Indianapolis.

The current number of the Modern Woodman, the national publication of the lodge, has the following to say regarding the forthcoming meeting of Indiana Woodmen:

Great plans and preparations are being made at Rushville, Ind., for the State Log-rolling which will be held there July 4. Every member of Camp 3548 is taking keen interest in the event, as this celebration will be the twenty-fifth anniversary of the organization of the Indiana State Log-rolling association, and as we said last month, the first annual meeting of this body was held in Rushville, 1899, a quarter of a century ago.

These annual affairs in the great Hoosier state loom large in Woodcraft circles as thousands of visitors are in attendance wherever the log-rolling is held, and naturally Burr Oak Camp to give out the program but, as we said last month, it will be on an elaborate scale with entertainment provided to please everybody, both young and old. There will be all sorts of events in addition to the excellent speaking program which we expect to announce in the columns of the next issue of The Modern Woodman.

Those living within automobile distance who miss this great log-rolling at Rushville will regret it the rest of their lives, so at this time we urge every one to plan to attend and make it the biggest in the history of the Indiana State Log-rolling association. Make the Indiana boys happy with your presence and we're here to say that they are a lot of real fellows and you will like them.

TO PREACH AT HOMER

The Rev. Mr. Nollen of Indianapolis will preach at the Homer Baptist church Sunday morning and evening.

HELPED HER IN EVERY WAY

So Writes Mrs. Trombley of Sharon, Vt., Concerning Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Sharon, Vermont.—"I was weak and run-down, had a tired feeling and bearing-down pains. I saw an advertisement in the newspaper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and began taking it. It has stopped these bearing-down pains and other bad feelings, and has helped me in every way. I have so much faith in the Vegetable Compound that I keep it on hand all of the time and recommend it whenever I have the opportunity."—Mrs. LEWIS TROMBLEY, Sharon, Vermont.

Glad to Help Others

"I had pains in my back and sides for many months, and my work would have to be left undone at those times. My sister told me what good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was doing her, so I tried it, and from the third bottle I was well and every one thought I looked better. I am glad to help others regain their health, and you may use my testimonial."—MABEL HARMANN, 1824 Greene Ave., Brooklyn, N.Y.
